DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(c), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(c) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on May 22, 2008 has been entered.

Claim Objections

2. The numbering of claims is not in accordance with 37 CFR 1.126 which requires the original numbering of the claims to be preserved throughout the prosecution. When claims are canceled, the remaining claims must not be renumbered. When new claims are presented, they must be numbered consecutively beginning with the number next following the highest numbered claims previously presented (whether entered or not).

Misnumbered claim 18 (first instance) been renumbered claim 4.

Double Patenting

3. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

Art Unit: 1797

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

4. Claims 1-7, 9-12 and 14-17 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 3, 4, 15, 17-24, 39 and 40 of copending Application No. 10/565,564. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the co-pending claims encompass and envision all of the limitations of the instant claims. One having ordinary skill in the art would understand that the composition would function to oxidize contaminants without the inclusion of hydrogen peroxide and that the composition can be used in effective amounts.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 1-7, 12 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Rounds et al. (6,120,698).

7. Rounds et al. '698 teach a composition for oxidizing organic contaminants and biocides in waste water, comprising a pH adjusting agent such as sodium carbonate or bicarbonate, an oxidizer such as sodium or potassium persulfate, and an algacide that can include copper (II) EDTA (see col. 1, lines 5-13, col. 2, lines 46-59, col. 3, line 19 to col. 4, line 16, col. 7, lines 46-67).

Art Unit: 1797

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. Claims 8, 14, 15 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rounds et al. '698 in view of Hoag et al. (6,019,548).

10. Rounds et al. '698 discloses all of the limitations of the claim except that the chelated metal and persulfate compound are added sequentially or in preferred amounts, and that a combination of di- and mono-persulfate is used. Hoag et al. '548 disclose an in situ treatment method for soil or waste water remediation, comprising adding permanganate and persulfate to the soil either sequentially or together as an aqueous solution (see abstract). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the process of Rounds et al. '698 by adding the components sequentially in order to provide a method of treatment in the situation where a premix is costly or not readily available. It is submitted that one having ordinary skill in the art would also know to use any available persulfate that is known in the art to be capable of oxidizing contaminants in soil or water based on the teaching of a sodium or potassium persulfate in the patent. Also, the amounts of persulfate and chelating agents used are considered to be parameters that would have been routinely optimized by one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention based the nature of contamination and the desired level of decontamination

Allowable Subject Matter

11. Claims 9-11 and 18 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

12. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 1 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. The Rounds et al. patent is cited to address the amendment to the claims. The provisional double patenting rejection over application no. 10/518,249 has been withdrawn because the application is abandoned.
